Measuring Native-Speaker Vocabulary Size 2021-02-15 estimating native speaker vocabulary size is important for guiding interventions to support native speaker vocabulary growth and for setting goals for learners of english as a foreign language unfortunately the measurement of native speaker vocabulary size has been one of the most methodologically contentious areas of research in applied linguistics with estimates of adults vocabulary size ranging from 12 000 words to well over 200 000 words

this book reviews over one hundred years of research critically examining the methodological issues and findings at each age level from young children to adults and suggesting solutions it presents a model organising the factors involved in vocabulary growth and is rich in well researched suggestions for supporting native speaker vocabulary learning it concludes with topics for further research the research shows that we now have a more stable and coherent picture of what and how much vocabulary native speakers know and how this knowledge grows throughout their lives

Learning Vocabulary in Another Language 2022-06-09 the workshop on the role of language in school learning implications for closing the achievement gap was held to explore three questions what is known about the conditions that affect language development what are the effects of early language development on school achievement what instructional approaches help students meet school demands for language and reading comprehension of particular interest was the degree to which group differences in school achievement might be attributed to language differences and whether language related instruction might help to close gaps in achievement by helping students cope with language intensive subject matter especially after the 3rd grade the workshop provided a forum for researchers and practitioners to review and discuss relevant research findings from varied perspectives the disciplines and professions represented included language development child development cognitive psychology linguistics reading educationally disadvantaged student populations literacy in content areas math science social studies and teacher education the aim of the meeting was not to reach consensus or provide recommendations but rather to offer expert insight into the issues that surround the study of language academic learning and achievement gaps and to gather varied viewpoints on what available research findings might imply for future research and practice this book summarizes and synthesizes two days of workshop presentations and discussion
