studies one of the fastest developing fields in the humanities since the early 1980s has so far been euro centric both in its theoretical explorations and in its historical grounding one of the major reasons for this is the unavailability of reliable data and systematic analysis of translation activities in non european cultures while a number of scholars in the western tradition of translation studies have become increasingly aware of this bias and its problems practically indicates that the burden of addressing such deficiencies and imbalances should be on the shoulders of scholars who are conversant with the non western translation traditions and capable of engaging in much needed basic research this book brings together eleven scholars with expertise in different asian translation traditions who highlight language and cultural environments as well as perceptions and modes of operation often different from those in the western tradition their contributions enhance our understanding of the various elements that influence the transfer of knowledge across cultures and provide invaluable data for the study of translation as a force for cultural development and cultural planning contributors include eva hung judy wakabayashi lawrence wong yoshihiro osawa teresa hyun keith taylor rita kothari doris jedamski raniela barbaza and bill cummings novel based on farcical
