Queen Rearing and Bee Breeding 1997

F&S Index International Annual 1997 this thesis presents detailed mechanistic studies on a series of important C-H activation reactions using combined computational methods and mass spectrometry experiments it also provides guidance on the design and improvement of catalysts and ligands the reactions investigated include i a nitrile containing template assisted meta selective C-H activation ii Pd mono N protected amino acid MPAA catalyzed meta selective C-H activation iii Pd MPAA catalyzed asymmetric C-H activation reactions and iv Cu catalyzed sp<sup>3</sup> C-H cross dehydrogenative coupling reaction the book reports on a novel dimeric Pd<sub>2</sub>M<sub>2</sub>Pd or Ag model for reaction i which successfully explains the meta selectivity observed experimentally for reaction ii with a combined DFT MS method the author successfully reveals the roles of MPAA ligands and a new C-H activation mechanism which accounts for the improved reactivity and high meta selectivity and opens new avenues for ligand design she subsequently applies ion mobility mass spectrometry to capture and separate the Pd MPAA substrate complex at different stages for the first time providing support for the internal base model for reaction iii employing DFT studies she then establishes a chirality relay model that can be widely applied to MPAA assisted asymmetric C-H activation reactions lastly for reaction iv the author conducts detailed computational studies on several plausible pathways for Cu O<sub>2</sub> and Cu TBHP systems and finds a reliable method for calculating the single electron transfer set process on the basis of benchmark studies
