georgian literary sources for late antiquity are commonly held to be later productions devoid of historical value as a result scholarship outside the republic of georgia has privileged graeco roman and even armenian narratives however when investigated within the dual contexts of a regional literary canon and the active participation of caucasia s diverse peoples in the iranian commonwealth early georgian texts emerge as rich repositories of late antique attitudes and outlooks the story revolves around the dramatic life of a woman named laiqa laiqa is an arabic word that means deserving but the protagonist never got what she deserved her father was a strict man who never cared for his daughter and refused to let her study her parents got her married to one of her cousins without bothering to ask about her will but what happened after her marriage is very shocking laiqa was a woman who was never allowed to live her wishes and whose life was full of life examinations the story shows how she strongly fought for her children and managed their needs when they had no money she died but not before setting an example for the entire world especially the women who limit their lives to social stereotypes this book answers the question how had she survived the indian listener fortnightly programme journal of air in english published by the indian state broadcasting service bombay started on 22 december 1935 and was the successor to the indian radio times in english which was published beginning in july 16 of 1927 from 22 august 1937 onwards it was published by all india radio new delhi in 1950 it was turned into a weekly journal later the indian listener became akashvani in january 5 1958 it was made a fortnightly again on july 1 1983 it used to serve the listener as a bradshaw of broadcasting and give listener the useful information in an interesting manner about programmes who writes them take part in them and produce them along with photographs of performing artists it also contains the information of major changes in the policy and service of the organisation name of the journal the indian listener language of the journal english date month year of publication 22 07 1946 periodicity of the journal fortnightly number of pages 98 volume number vol xi no 15 broadcast programme schedule published page nos 34 93 article freedom what does it imply author n f barwell keywords labour oppression opportunity human enemy document id inl 1946 j d vol ii 03 the definitive guide that teaches you how to use the japanese concept of wabi sabi to reshape every area of your life and find happiness right where you are fed up with the exhausting challenges of our fast paced consumption driven existence millions
