oxford you have about 80 000 hours in your career 40 hours a week 50 weeks a year for 40 years this means your choice of career is one of the most important decisions you ll ever make make the right choices and you can help solve some of the world s most pressing problems as well as have a more rewarding interesting life for such an important decision however there s surprisingly little good advice out there most career advice focuses on things like how to write a cv and much of the rest is just misleading platitudes like follow your passion most people we speak to don t even use career advice they just speak to friends and try to figure it out for themselves when it comes to helping others with your career the advice usually assumes you need to work as a teacher doctor charity worker and so on even though these paths might not be a good fit for you and were not what the highest impact people in history did this guide is based on five years of research conducted alongside academics at the university of oxford it aims to help you find a career you enjoy you re good at and that tackles the world s most pressing problems it covers topics like 1 what makes for a dream job and why follow your passion can be misleading 2 why the most effective ways to make a difference aren t always the obvious ones like working at a charity or becoming a doctor 3 how to compare global problems like climate change and education in terms of their scale and urgency 4 how to discover and develop your strengths it s also full of practical tips and tools you ll come away with a plan to use your 80 000 hours in a way that s fulfilling and high impact what people are saying based on evidence and good sense not platitudes steven pinker new york times bestselling
