off society in an all round way beijing juggles a host of competing priorities health care for impoverished villagers habitat for threatened tigers cars for a growing middle class clean air for all citizens energy to power new cities rubber for the global marketplace where the dragon meets the angry river is an incisive look at the possible fates of china and the planet will the angry river continue to flow will tibetan girls from subsistence farming families learn to read and write can china and the united states come together to lead action on climate change far reaching in its history and scope this unique book shows us the real world consequences of conservation and development decisions now being made in beijing and beyond this stimulating uniquely organized and wonderfully readable comparison of ancient rome and china offers provocative insights to students and general readers of world history the book s narrative is clear completely jargon free strikingly independent and addresses the complete cycles of two world empires the topics explored include nation formation state building empire building arts of government strategies of superpowers and decline and fall the first book by a westerner who built a company in china from scratch the emergence of china as a world economic power is one of the biggest stories of our time every business that intends to be an important part of the fast changing global economy needs to know how to play the game in china who better to be your guide than jack perkowski the pioneer who went to china in the early 1990s equipped with just a concept he built a company step by step from the ground up asimco technologies that became a major player in china s fast growing automotive business perkowski s story is as rich involving and improbable as those of nineteenth century titans such as rockefeller and carnegie or of twentieth century ones like michael dell and bill gates but with one obvious difference they and others built their companies when america was emerging or dominant perkowski built his at the dawn of the chinese century perkowski s insights about the challenges and potential of western involvement in today s great chinese expansion gained on the ground in china itself over the past fifteen years are of inestimable value and relevance to us all for instance the good news about china everything is possible the bad news nothing is easy to build a business in china you must develop a local management team avoiding both former bureaucrats of the state run enterprises and the country s new breed of wildcat entrepreneurs you must learn the real reason why china is able to produce goods so cheaply forget your notions about the chinese economy being rigidly controlled by beijing it is in fact highly decentralized and locally driven as the chinese say the mountains are high and the emperor is far away perkowski tells his story with clarity lots of humor and a gripping sense of adventure he takes us along on his own version of the long march when he visited two factories a day for nine months hitting every province going through endless rounds of dinners and the inevitable drinking games and eating what seemed like every part of every animal he vividly describes what it s like to be a westerner living and working in china and the dramatic transformation he s seen in the country from a place left behind by the modern world to a place where a new world is being born filled with hard nosed lessons for anyone with ambitions of breaking into the chinese market and a rich source of practical wisdom about the realities of china today managing the dragon answers the questions people ask perkowski most often about his unique experience as well as those they never think of asking but should the ancient chinese divided the zodiac into four quadrants each with its own ruler the green dragon of the east the scarlet phoenix of the south the white tiger of the west and the sombre warrior of the north they believed that these and the interaction of the five elements wood fire earth metal and water governed human affairs and that together they demonstrated a unity in multiplicity a harmony in divergence taking the same frame of reference liam darcy brown set out to travel to the four corners of the people s republic in an attempt to reconcile modern china s seemingly irreconcilable extremes his 10 000 mile journey took him to an isolated fishing community in the east china sea a tropical holiday resort on the tip of hainan island a muslim city on the silk road and a riverside village in remote manchuria in each he discovered aspects of china that the wider world seldom glimpses yet despite the astonishing
