European War Pamphlets 1916 for the last two decades sidney tarrow has explored contentious politics disruptions of the settled political order caused by social movements these disruptions range from strikes and street protests to riots and civil disobedience to revolution in war states and contention tarrow shows how such movements sometimes trigger animate and guide the course of war and how they sometimes rise during war and in war s wake to change regimes or even overthrow states tarrow draws on evidence from historical and contemporary cases including revolutionary france the united states from the civil war to the anti vietnam war movement italy after world war i and the united states during the decade following 9 11 in the twenty first century movements are becoming transnational and globalization and internationalization are moving war beyond conflict between states the radically new phenomenon is not that movements make war against states but that states make war against movements tarrow finds this an especially troublesome development in recent u s history he argues that that the united states is in danger of abandoning the devotion to rights it had expanded through two centuries of struggle and that americans are now institutionalizing as a new normal the abuse of rights in the name of national security he expands this hypothesis to the global level through what he calls the international state of emergency

The Naval History of Great Britain, from the Declaration of War by France in 1793, to the Accession of George IV. 1837 most wars between countries end quickly and at relatively low cost the few in which high intensity fighting continues for years bring about a disproportionate amount of death and suffering what separates these few unusually long and intense wars from the many conflicts that are far less destructive in logics of war alex weisiger tests three explanations for a nation's decision to go to war and continue fighting regardless of the costs he combines sharp statistical analysis of interstate wars over the past two centuries with nine narrative case studies he examines both well known conflicts like world war ii and the persian gulf war as well as unfamiliar ones such as the 1864 1870 paraguayan war or the war of the triple alliance which proportionally caused more deaths than any other war in modern history when leaders go to war expecting easy victory events usually correct their misperceptions quickly and with fairly low casualties thereby setting the stage for a negotiated agreement a second explanation involves motives born of domestic politics as war becomes more intense however leaders are increasingly constrained in their ability to continue the fighting particularly destructive wars instead arise from mistrust of an opponent s intentions countries that launch preventive wars to forestall expected decline tend to have particularly ambitious war aims that they hold to even when fighting goes poorly moreover in some cases their opponents interpret the preventive attack as evidence of a dispositional commitment to aggression resulting in the rejection of any form of negotiation and a demand for unconditional surrender weisiger s treatment of a topic of central concern to scholars of major wars will also be read with great interest by military historians political psychologists and sociologists
