structures and architecture a viable urban perspective contains extended abstracts of the research papers and prototype submissions presented at the fifth international conference on structures and architecture icsa2022 aalborg denmark 6 8 july 2022 the book 578 pages also includes a usb with the full texts of the papers 1448 pages the contributions on creative and scientific aspects in the conception and construction of structures as architecture and on the role of advanced digital industrial and craft based technologies in this matter represent a critical blend of scientific technical and practical novelties in both fields hence as part of the proceedings series structures exploration and development of the synergetic potentials of the fields of structures and architecture with each volume further challenging the conditions problems and potentials related to the art practice and theory of teaching researching designing and building structures as vehicles towards a viable architecture of the urban environment the volumes of the series appear once every three years in tandem with the conferences organized by the international association of structures and architecture and are intended for a global readership of researchers practitioners and students including architects structural and construction engineers builders and building consultants constructors material suppliers planners urban designers anthropologists economists sociologists artists product manufacturers and other professionals involved in the design and realization of architectural structural and infrastructural projects this book presents a significant amount of structural paleomagnetic and magnetic fabric data in the central high atlas morocco the authors thoroughly described and analyzed the present day structure of this intraplate chain through 22 of cross sections potential field data analysis and 3d reconstruction in addition the authors propose a palinspastic reconstruction of the structure of the basin at 100 ma i e post extension and pre compression to finally evaluate its mesozoic and cenozoic geodynamic evolution this books presents 1 a unique three dimensional model at the chain scale 2 an analysis of the ca 100 ma remagnetization to perform palinspastic restorations of most representative structures 3 as well as the interpretation of the magnetic fabrics in order to unravel the tectonic or deformation setting that the rocks underwent in different parts of the basin this book is of interest to structural geologists in northern africa the mediterranean and iberia as well as to those interested in inverted intraplate basins and paleomagnetists from around the planet also this book is intended to help students to understand better the geological evolution of the atlas and therefore morocco and surrounding areas this volume contains revised and expanded versions of those papers from the 1990 functional grammar conference in copenhagen that contributed specifically to the current investigation of clause structure in terms of semantic layers one of the key concepts in this discussion is reference some papers discuss ways in which previous accounts of reference need to be expanded and differentiated to provide a consistent picture of referential properties the power of layered analysis to bring out fundamental similarities between languages of very different types is the theme of another group of papers again with the referential properties of constituents playing a central role by some contributors layered analysis is challenged and the question is raised as to how it might fit into a dynamic and pragmatic picture of language the book is rounded off by a comparison between layered structure in functional grammar and in government and binding theory 4ltr press solutions give students the option to choose the format that best suits their learning preferences this option is perfect for those students who focus on the textbook as their main course resource important notice media content referenced within the product description or the product text may not be available in the ebook version this report draws on the wealth of from its fundamentals to its most recent union with string and superstring theories which are also reviewed in a self contained manner the subject is presented consistently in a unified geometric formalism relying on the calculus of exterior forms and the mathematics needed to develop the theory is explained in appropriate chapters this volume explores phenomena which come under the heading of epistemic modalities and evidentiality in more or less well known languages germanic romance balto slavic hungarian tibetan lakandon and yucatec maya arwak chibchan kogi and ika it reveals cross linguistic variations in the structuring of these vast fields of enquiry and clearly demonstrates the relevance and interplay of multiple factors involved in the analysis of these two conceptual domains although the contributions present diverging descriptive traditions they are nonetheless within the broad domain of functional typological linguistics and give access to distinct yet comparable approaches they all converge around a number of key issues modal verbs the relationship between epistemic modality and evidentiality the relationship of modal notions with some tense and aspect notions the notions of inter subjectivity commitment and dis engagement the prosodic variation of modal adverbs the diachronic connections between negation and evidential markers the connection with mirativity the volume is of interest to linguists and advanced graduate students working in general and theoretical linguistics semantics pragmatics cognition and typology the world economy brings together two reference works by angus maddison the world economy a millennial perspective 2001 and the world economy historical statistics 2003 this new edition contains statlinks so that readers can access the underlying data in excel format talent has become the most important resource for organizations across a wide range of sectors throughout the world including business non profit and government these organizations are now engaged in an increasingly fierce competition to acquire the best talent as they seek to gain the upper hand in today s fast changing environment by combining the body of knowledge on entrepreneurship and talent management from a global perspective this book provides a synthesized understanding of entrepreneurial mobility and talent management in the entrepreneurship and innovation ecosystem the expert contributors combine empirical evidence and case studies to provide a nuanced understanding of global talent management from an international comparative perspective the topics discussed include china s return migration and its impact on chinese development local engagement and transformation of chinese communities in england and reverse migration from the us to china furthermore from a comparative perspective contributors examine global talent and entrepreneurial mobility in the contexts of silicon valley european university spin off practices and entrepreneurial ecosystems in france italy and south korea respectively scholars and students in entrepreneurship and talent management will find the scope for future research useful in their work entrepreneurs managers and policymakers will benefit from the examination of global perspectives and different national contexts human perspectives 3a 3b has been written to address the updated units of the human biology course each chapter features information under clear subject headings making it easy to navigate read and assimilate the content is highly illustrated with photographs electron micrograph images and annotated diagrams which are designed to engage students and to encourage scientific thinking investigation and problem solving the text is supported by a nelsonnet website and nelsonnetbook this book presents a collection of critical thinking that concern cultural social and political issues for science education in the nordic countries the chapter authors describe specific scenarios to challenge persisting views interrogate frameworks and trouble contemporary approaches to researching teaching and learning in science taking a point of departure in empirical examples from the nordic countries the collection of work is taking a critical sideways glance at the nordic education principles critical examinations target specifically those who are researching in the fields of science education research to question whether conventional research approaches foci and theoretical approaches are sufficient in a world of science education that is neither politically neutral nor free of cultural values attention is not only on the individual learner but on the cultural social and political conditions and contexts in science education the different chapters review debates and research in teacher education school teaching and learning including when external stakeholders are involved even though the chapters are contextualized in nordic settings there will be similarities and parallels that will be informative to the international science education research community regional dynamics burgundian landscapes in historical perspective challenges traditional practices and approaches to regional studies by anthropologists and economic geographers this book attempts to incorporate various fields such as natural sciences social sciences and humanities for a more comprehensive framework in regional studies a region that has historical record of depth i e burgundy france is chosen for this book the book begins with a chapter on theories that critique the past approaches to regional studies and introduces relevant concepts covered in the book such as landscape sociohistorical structures heterarchy etc the following chapters focus on the physical structures of the region the archaeological excavations settlement and land use during the iron age and gallo roman times multiscalar research design and roman period beginning from its conquest until the middle ages a summary of important themes is given in the last chapter this book caters to many students and professionals in various fields like anthropology geography archeology history economics and ecology combining a complete histology atlas with a concise clinically oriented text histology from a clinical perspective 2nd edition integrates essential basic science information and related pathology to ensure mastery of fundamental histology topics and the confidence to apply concepts effectively in practice explanatory text in each chapter is paired with expanded figure legends in an innovative layout that presents light and electron micrographic images of a tissue a diagrammatic representation of the same tissue and an example of how the tissue may be modified by a pathologic process in abundant clinical correlations rich with clinical vignette usmle style review questions and additional self assessment resources this student friendly approach reflects the most up to date clinical perspectives and instills the understanding and skills to excel in today s clinical settings this volume is intended to stimulate a change in the practice of decision support advocating an interdisciplinary approach centred on both social and natural sciences both theory and practice it addresses the issue of analysis and management of uncertainty and risk in decision support corresponding to the aims of integrated assessment a pluralistic method is necessary to account for legitimate plural interpretations of uncertainty and multiple risk perceptions a wide range of methods and tools is presented to contribute to adequate and effective pluralistic uncertainty management and risk analysis in decision support endeavours special attention is given to the development of one such approach the pluralistic framework for integrated uncertainty management and risk analysis prima of which the practical value is explored in the context of the environmental outlooks produced by the dutch institute for public health and environment rivm audience this book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners whose work involves decision support uncertainty management risk analysis environmental planning and integrated assessment the relations between behavior evolution and culture have been a subject of vigorous debate since the publication of darwin s the descent of man 1871 the latest volume of perspectives in ethology brings anthropologists ethologists psychologists and evolutionary theorists together to reexamine this important relation with two exceptions the essays by brown and eldredge all of the present essays were originally presented at the fifth biannual symposium on the science of behavior held in guadalajara mexico in february 1998 the volume opens with the problem of the origins of culture tackled from two different viewpoints by richerson and boyd and lancaster kaplan hill and hurtado respectively richerson and boyd analyze the possible relations between climatic change in the pleistocene and the evolution of social learning evaluating the boundary conditions under which social learning could increase fitness and contribute to culture lancaster kaplan hill and hurtado examine how a shift in the diet of the genus homo toward difficult to acquire food could have determined or coevolved with unique features of the human life cycle these two essays illustrate how techniques that range from computer modeling to comparative behavioral analysis and that make use of a wide range of data can be used for drawing inferences about past selection pressures as culture evolves it must somehow find its place within and also affect a complex hierarchy of behavioral and biological factors here stephen r palmquist attempts to revolutionise kant scholarship by demonstrating the high degree of systematic coherence and consistency in kant's entire philosophical project by using the principle of perspective as a technical tool palmquist reveals the theories in kant's critical works to be the architectonic elaboration of a single idea palmquist asserts that kant's system cannot be properly interpreted without understanding its essentially constructive theocentric orientation and its systematic character thus the unity which the author discusses replaces the typical interpretation of Kant's theology and philosophy of religion as an austere deistic agnosticism and moral reductionism with a richer more practical framework for theological thinking

Global perspective for competitive enterprise economy and ecology addresses the general theme of the concurrent engineering CE 2009 conference the need for global advancements in the areas of competitive enterprise economy and ecology the proceedings contain 84 papers which vary from the theoretical and conceptual to the practical and industrial the content of this volume reflects the genuine variety of issues related to current CE methods and phenomena

Global perspective for competitive enterprise economy and ecology will therefore enable researchers industry practitioners postgraduate students and advanced undergraduates to build their own view of the inherent problems and methods in CE the essays presented here represent over twenty five years of thinking about the theology and life of the apostle Paul who as a slave of Jesus Christ Rom 1:1 was a servant of the new covenant with a ministry of the Spirit 2 Cor 3:6-8 taking the questions raised by the history of scholarship since F. C. Baur as their starting point Hafemann's exegetical studies focus on how Paul's self understanding shaped his message the motivations of his ministry and his consequent call to suffer for the sake of his churches Hafemann's work reveals that Paul's views of redemption of his own redemptive mission and of the life of the redeemed derived from his eschatological conviction that the purpose of the new covenant realities inaugurated by the christ is to prepare for their promised consummation when christ returns to judge the world this open access book presents the outcomes of the symposium new metropolitan perspectives held at mediterranea university Reggio Calabria Italy on May 26-28 2020 addressing the challenge of knowledge dynamics and innovation driven policies towards urban and regional transition the book presents a multi disciplinary debate on the new frontiers of strategic and spatial planning economic programs and decision support tools in connection with urban rural area networks and metropolitan centers the respective papers focus on six major tracks innovation dynamics smart cities and ICT urban regeneration community led practices and PPP local development inland and urban areas in territorial cohesion strategies mobility accessibility and infrastructures heritage landscape and identity and risk management environment and energy the book also includes a special section on the region United Nations 2020-2030 given its scope the book will benefit all researchers practitioners and policymakers interested in issues concerning metropolitan and marginal areas volume 13 of this series presents five timely reviews of research on alkaloids such as new developments in the chemistry and biology of alkaloids from amphibian skins it provides a synopsis and tabulation of the hundreds of alkaloids that have been detected with an emphasis on occurrence structure dietary origins and biological activity alkaloids containing the 1,2,3,3a,8,8a-hexahydroindolo[2,3-b]indole ring system and the cyclotryptamines are discussed an exhaustive list of available structures is provided the chemical and biological structures have been evaluated critically so as to identify existing errors and expose irregularities in appearance or biological function in addition attention is drawn to the possible implications of the accumulated knowledge related to the synthesis occurrence and biochemistry of this class of alkaloids recent work on alkaloids containing the comparatively non basic pyrrole ring system is summarized one of the chapters covers isolation structure elucidation biological activity and selected chemical syntheses of certain pyrrole alkaloids recent developments in the chemistry of diterpenoid and norditerpenoid alkaloids occurring in aconitum delphinium and consolida genera of the ranunculaceae family used in chinese and indian medicine are surveyed and the book ends with a focus on transition metal catalyzed carbonylations as efficient and novel approaches to the construction of piperidine izidine and quinazoline alkaloids which occur in great numbers in nature chinese syntax in a cross linguistic perspective collects twelve new papers that explore the syntax of chinese in comparison with other languages theoretical studies of latvian grammar have a great deal to offer to contemporary linguistics although traditionally lithuanian has been the most widely studied baltic language in diachronic and synchronic linguistics alike latvian has a number of distinctive features that can prove valuable both for historical and perhaps even more so for synchronic language research therefore at the very least contemporary typological areal and language contact studies involving baltic languages should account for data from latvian typologically latvian grammar is a classic indo european baltic system with well developed inflection and derivation however it also bears certain similarities to the finno ugric languages which can be reasonably explained by its areal and historical background this applies for example to the mood system and its connections with modality and evidentiality in latvian also to the correlation between aspect and quantity as manifested in verbal and nominal case forms the relations between debitive mood certain constructions with reflexive verbs and voice in latvian are intriguing examples of unusual morphosyntactic features accordingly the book focuses on the following topics case system and declension with emphasis on the polyfunctionality of case forms gender conjugation tense and personal forms aspect mood modality and evidentiality reflexive verbs and voice the examples included in this book have been taken from the balanced corpus of modern latvian lidzsvarots musdienu latviešu valodas tekstu korpuss available at korpuss lv google lv mass media and fiction texts see the list of language sources without regard to relative frequency ratios an evaluation of the merits potential and limits of connectionism this book also illustrates current research programs and recent trends connectionism also known as neural networks is an exciting new field which has brought together researchers from different areas such as artificial intelligence computer science cognitive science neuroscience physics and complex dynamics these researchers are applying the connectionist paradigm in an interdisciplinary way to the analysis and design of intelligent systems in this book researchers from the above mentioned fields not only report on their most recent research results but also describe connectionism from the perspective of their own field looking at issues such as the effects and the utility of connectionism for their field the potential and limitations of connectionism can it be combined with other approaches angus maddison provides a comprehensive view of the growth and levels of world population since the year 1000 when rich countries of today were poorer than asia and africa the gap between the world leader the us and the poorest region africa is this book describes how to create robots capable to develop the behavioral and cognitive skills required to perform a task through machine learning methods it focuses on model free approaches with minimal human intervention in which the behavior used by the robots to solve their task and the way in which such behavior is produced is discovered by the adaptive process automatically i e it is not specified by the experimenter the book which is targeted toward researchers phd and master students with an interest in machine learning and robotics i introduces autonomous robots evolutionary algorithms reinforcement learning algorithms and learning by demonstration methods ii uses concrete experiments to illustrate the fundamental aspects of embodied intelligence iii provides theoretical and practical knowledge including tutorials and exercises and iv provides an integrated review of recent research in this area carried within partially separated research communities 9 nonequivalence of gravitation and the russian federation is presented and current plans are described for the disposal of solid wastes arising from civilian nuclear power production programmes in other countries including belgium bulgaria canada germany and the uk the book provides a good insight into ongoing research at local and national level within russia devoted to the safe disposal of defence related radioactive waste it also demonstrates how existing expertise and technology from civilian nuclear waste management programmes can be applied to solving the problems created by nuclear defence programmes contributions address methods of immobilisation site selection methodology site characterisation techniques and data interpretation the key elements of safety performance assessments of planned deep geological repositories for radioactive waste and radionuclide transport modelling concerns associated with certain specific nuclear waste disposal concepts and repository sites are also presented in the era of technology and big data advanced and innovative research methods and conducting effective research to solve emerging problems in tourism and hospitality is critical making advanced research methods in hospitality and tourism a necessity for academics and practitioners encyclopedia of pharmacy practice and clinical pharmacy three volume set covers definitions concepts methods theories and applications of clinical pharmacy and pharmacy practice it highlights why and how this field has a significant impact on healthcare the work brings baseline knowledge along with the latest most cutting edge research in addition new treatments algorithms standard treatment guidelines and pharmacotherapies regarding diseases and disorders are also covered the book's main focus lies on the pharmacy practice side covering pharmacy practice research pharmacovigilance pharmacoeconomics social and administrative pharmacy public health pharmacy pharmaceutical systems research the future of pharmacy and new interventional models of pharmaceutical care by providing concise expositions on a broad range of topics this book is an excellent resource for those seeking information beyond their specific areas of expertise this outstanding reference is essential for anyone involved in the study of pharmacy practice provides a one stop resource for access to information written by world leading scholars in the field meticulously organized with articles split into three clear sections it is the ideal resource for students researchers and professionals to find relevant information contains concise and accessible chapters that are ideal as an authoritative introduction for non specialists and readers from the undergraduate level upwards includes multimedia options such as hyperlinked references and further readings cross references and videos this volume presents a state of the art survey of synchronic and diachronic dimensions of ergativity in the indo aryan language family it contains an introduction drawing on the most important recent typological and theoretical contributions to this field plus seven papers about the origin development and distribution of ergative alignment in ancient and modern indo aryan languages written by well established expert authors the articles provide detailed explorations of language specific synchronic systems or patterns of change and large scale studies of the distribution of ergative morphosyntax across the indo aryan languages the papers have a typological functional approach and are based on thorough fieldwork experience and or philological investigation as the indo aryan language family has played a paramount role in recent theories of ergativity and of alignment typology and change this volume is highly relevant to experts working on these languages and to scholars interested in grammatical relations and it will figure in all future debates in these fields it is a great pleasure to share with you the
