Research Papers 2011-12-01 bullshit isn t what it used to be now two science professors give us the tools to dismantle misinformation and think clearly in a world of fake news and bad data a modern classic a straight talking survival guide to the mean streets of a dying democracy and a global pandemic wired misinformation disinformation and fake news abound and it s increasingly difficult to know what s true our media environment has become hyperpartisan science is conducted by press release startup culture elevates bullshit to high art we are fairly well equipped to spot the sort of old school bullshit that is based in fancy rhetoric and weasel words but most of us don t feel qualified to challenge the avalanche of new school bullshit presented in the language of math science or statistics in calling bullshit professors carl bergstrom and jevin west give us a set of powerful tools to cut through the most intimidating data you don t need a lot of technical expertise to call out problems with data are the numbers or results too good or too dramatic to be true is the claim comparing like with like is it confirming your personal bias drawing on a deep well of expertise in statistics and computational biology bergstrom and west exuberantly unpack examples of selection bias and muddled data visualization distinguish between correlation and causation and examine the susceptibility of science to modern bullshit we have always needed people who call bullshit when necessary whether within a circle of friends a community of scholars or the citizenry of a nation now that bullshit has evolved we need to relearn the art of skepticism
